WHAT IS THE NATIONAL PARK FOUNDATION?

The National Park Foundation (NPF), the official charity of America's national parks, raises private funds that directly aid, support and enrich America's nearly 400 national parks and their programs. Over the past five years, NPF has contributed more than $120 million to the national park system. Chartered by Congress as the nonprofit partner of the National Park Service in 1967 (PL 90-209), the NPF plays a critical role in conservation and preservation efforts, establishing national parks as powerful learning environments, and giving all audiences an equal and abundant opportunity to experience, enjoy and support America's treasured places.

"Catoctin's diverse cultural resources provide several vignettes of our nation's history in one small location. Native Americans quarried rhyolite for the production of lithic tools. A charcoal and iron industry is still visible today, along with smaller industries including farms [and] saw-mills. Historic structures and products of the Works Progress Administration and the Civilian Conservation Corps...are tangible reminders of the capability of vigorous youth programs to strengthen the nation's economic and social fabric. The totality of resources found in Catoctin Mountain Park reflects much of the early fabric of our country."
